Intellect Socitm Local Government Supplier Forum

Fostering closer working and better understanding

Charter

*Companies highlighted are members of the forum's management committee (along with representatives from Socitm, Hampshire County Council and Tandridge District Council).

About Intellect

Intellect is the trade association for the UK technology industry. Intellect provides a collective voice for its members and drives connections with government and business to create a commercial environment in which they can thrive. Intellect represents over 800 companies ranging from SMEs to multinationals. As the central hub for this networked community, Intellect is able to draw upon a wealth of experience and expertise to ensure that its members are best placed to tackle challenges now and in the future.

About Socitm

Socitm (The Society of Information Technology Management) currently represents around 2,000 members from 550 different organisations including 98% of all UK local authorities. Founded in 1986 as the professional association for ICT managers working in and for the public sector, members have been drawn primarily from local authorities but also from police and fire services, housing authorities and other locally delivered public services.

However, with a new and broader vision, partnerships with different sectors and undergoing significant transformation, Socitm is becoming the professional association for all people working with ICT across the public and third sectors. Already acknowledged as a widely respected forum for the promotion, use and development of ICT best practice Socitm also plays an increasingly influential role, within local and central government, in the development of professionalism, policy formation and the transformation of service delivery.

What is the Intellect-Socitm Local Government Supplier Forum?

The Intellect–Socitm Local Government Supplier Forum was established in April 2004 with the aim of fostering closer working and better understanding between the local government community and industry suppliers operating in the marketplace. Member companies range in size from large multinationals to niche consultancies. The group raises issues from across the sector and identifies areas of common concern to both Intellect and Socitm members. A management committee is responsible for taking forward the work of the forum.

How do we help our members?

The forum seeks to:

- ▶ identify areas of common interest between the local government and supplier community through educational events and the development of joint approaches to particular policy
- ▶ agree how to work on particular issues that can be taken forward in a practical way
- ▶ act as a channel for ideas and issues and feed these into bodies such as Intellect's Public Sector Council and the Socitm Board of Directors
- ▶ create clear channels of communication between the management committee and members so that the opinions and concerns of the wider membership help shape the forum's activities

The forum's activities range from quarterly briefings from key players in the local government arena, bringing together a whole range of organisations from both supplier and local government communities, to smaller scale, non-commercial activities such as lobbying.
